CITIZEN-TAXPAYER PROTESTS PAVING

Thinks Paving Not Needed. Thinks Burden of Taxation Already Excessively Heavy and Says No More Should be Added. Says Owning Residential Property is Bad Investment.

Editor Grenada Sentinel:-

As a citizen and taxpayer, I desire to enter the protest of many of the people of this community against the ordinance recently adopted by the Board of Mayor and Aldermen of our city relative to paving the streets.

Grenada is still proceeding to pile up taxes on the people who are already suffering from an intolerable load. For many years, there has gone up all over this country a wail against the imposing of taxes; the crying shame of the day is the burden of taxation. The power to tax is the power to destroy, and the members of our Honorable Board should be reminded that unless we call a halt in taxation, we will actually destroy the market value of our property. The taxes in the City of Grenada amount to 25 mills on the dollar, which, added to the state and county tax, makes between six and seven per cent. Can we afford to make the burden heavier? The city is already heavily in debt—its bonded indebtedness is very near the limit. The ordinance recites that there is not sufficient money on hand to pay the expense of this paving, and that it will be necessary to either borrow the money by the issuance of bonds or by loan notes. This paving is altogether an unnecessary act and under the law, as I understand it (I have consulted a lawyer upon the subject,) the improvement should not be made unless it be necessary. How the members of our board under their oaths can recite that this improvement is necessary is beyond my comprehension.

The crying need of Grenada is more dwelling houses; there is not a vacant house in Grenada, and many people would move here and make this their home, if they could only find homes in which to move their families. But no business man will for a moment consider the erection of dwelling houses simply because, after paying the taxes, repairs and insurance, there will be left nothing on the investment. Will our city fathers stand in the way of the development of our city by making the burden of taxation so onerous as to prohibit the erection of houses? What we want is more desirable citizens, more people who will put their money and brains and muscle into the development of our industries, and more people to whom our merchants can sell their goods, but if we are to continue in the unwise course of piling up taxation, we will not only prevent people from becoming residents of our community, but actually drive capital from our midst. Let us reduce our present debt and then when our rate of taxation becomes reasonable we will be in a position to have some of the things that are "convenient" and "good to look at," but first let us have those things which are actually necessary, and we all agree that paving the streets is not necessary.

AUCTION SALE OF DAIRY CATTLE AT GLENWILD

Tomorrow, Saturday, April 28th, at 2 o'clock p. m. there will be held at Glenwild Plantation an auction sale of dairy cattle at which 10 pure bred Holsteins and 10 grade Jerseys will be sold to the highest bidder. With the awakening in this section of an interest in dairying, this opportunity to add pure bred cattle to one's herd shold not go unheeded.

If there should be any landowner in the North Mississippi Fair District attending this sale who wishes to buy a cow and does not wish to pay cash, he may give his note at six per cent interest and the cow will be his. This offer on the part of the owner of Glenwild Plantation is made so that pure bred cattle can be purchased by any farmer in this section and it is hoped that, in time, pure bred herds will be found on every farm in the counties embracing the North Mississippi Fair District.

FAMOUS EVANGELIST TO CONDUCT MEETING

Rev. Trigg A. M. Thomas of Kansas City, Mo. Will Open Ten Days' Revival at Presbyterian Church Thursday Night, May 3rd.

Announcement is being made in The Sentinel this week of a ten days' revival service which will open at the Presbyterian Church in Grenada on next Thursday night, May 3rd. Rev. Trigg A. M. Thomas, famous soldier evangelist of Kansas City, Mo., will do the preaching. Two services will be held each day, at 10 a. m. and 7:45 p. m.

Dr. Thomas was for some time the pastor of one of the large churches in Kansas City but is now devoting his entire time to evangelistic work. He is one of the strongeest preachers in the Southern Presbyterian Church and as a result of his meetings, hundreds of souls have been won to the cause of Christ.

Grenada should herself fortunate indeed, in being able to secure the services of such a man as Dr. Thomas and his coming should prove a blessing to the town.

The matter of protracted religious services should concern every individual in a community regardless of church affiliations. If men and women are right with God, then it is such an easy matter to keep right with everybody else. The pathway to seeing that which is best and brighest each and every day is opened. Regardless of what position a man or woman may have, regardless of their wealth or property holdings, they owe their being to some higher power, and the time in this world is but short compared to the dateless ages of eternity.

Nobody really owns what they have—they can not take it to the other world, but it may prove to be a dead weight which will keep them out of heaven. All that is in the word belongs to God. So let it be hoped that the people of Grenada will be wonderfully blessed by the coming of Rev. Mr. Thomas.

HOMER WILLIAMS TO MANAGE OPERA HOUSE

It has been known in Grenada for some time that Mr. R. W. Tyson, the popular manager of the Grenada Opera House intended to leave on or about the first of May for Galveston Texas. Mr. Tyson, during his several years' stay in the town, has won completely the esteem and friendship of all who have come to know him and it is with regret that the community will see him and his excellent wife, who is a Grenada girl, leave for their new home. The best wishes of the entire town go with them.

Mr. Homer J. Williams is announcing to the patrons of Grenada Opera House that, effective May 1, he has leased the building and that he will conduct the show along the same lines as those followed by his predecessor. Mr. Williams has for the past several months been familarizing himself with all details of the management of the business and states that he feels satisfied that the moviegoers will be highly pleased with the selection of pictures that he will present. The Sentinel feels sure that the public will have no complaint whatever as Mr. Williams is noted for his ability to handle any task which he undertakes. He is thoroughly honest and reliable and is well known to all residents of Grenada having been born and reared here.

FRANKLIN MAKES SPEECH AT COURT HOUSE

Devotes Nearly One Third of Time to Mike Conner. His Views on Numerous Questions. Promises if Elected Governor. Reared on Farm. Says Nothing About Russell's Support and His Presence at Russell-Birkhead Trial. Nor Does He Mention Officers Being Paid by Russell's Board Trustees More Than Law Allows. Platform in Full.

State Senator L. C. Franklin made a speech at the court house in Grenada last Saturday afternoon in the interests of his candidacy for Governor.

Mr. Franklin was presented to the audience by Hon. B. S. Elliott very approriately.

His speech covered something over an hour. He at once went into presenting his cause. He told of where he was reared and of having come up from the farm to the position he now occupies after having largely worked his own way through school.

Mr. Franklin devoted the first twenty five minutes of his speech to one of his opponents, Mike Conner. And it is pertinent to say that he regards Mr. Conner as a stumbling block between him and the Governor's office. He referred to him in one part of his speech as "my most formidable opponent."

Mr. Franklin referred to a newspaper construction of Mr. Conner's speech in Grenada which interpreted Mr. Conner as having reference to Mr. Franklin when he stated that he did not believe in talking law-enforcement on the stump and then appearing frequently before the powers that be in Jackson to get bootleggers and others pardoned. Mr. Franklin entered a strong demurrer to this and stated that during this and the previous administration he and his law firm never appeared before the pardon board but four times, so the "record" showed. By way of parenthesis it might be well to observe that he might have been there a number of times when the "record" did not show it, and it is also worthy of note that the pardon board has no authority in the wide wide world to issue pardons, and that its recommondations have no binding force whatever on the Governor, it is therefore a very frequent thing for attorneys to see the Governor and never actually to go on "record" before the pardon board. He took issue with Mr. Conner who came very nearly saying that he, if made Governor, would be so slow in passing on petitions for pardons for wildcat whiskey makers and bootleggers that they would think that there would be no pardons issued for their class at all. Mr. Franklin stated that courts frequently imposed excessive penalties and that there was frequently a miscarriage of justice and therefore imperative that a Governor should issue pardons.

He said that he realized that taxes were heavy and that he would promise if elected to see that expenses were cut down, however, he made no specific statement as to what boards, if any, or what offices should be cut out. He did not go into particulars. He said nothing about the Russell administration increasing the salary of the "secretary" at the University from $2000, what it paid before Russell went into office, to $4500. Neither did he say anything about the Russell administration raising the salary of the secretary-treasurer at the Mississippi State College for Women from $2,000. to $3600. and $600 additional for a home. Nor did he make any statement about what the Russell administration did not raising the salary of the Secretary-treasurer of the A. & M. College from $2400. to $4500.

He stated that bonds had been issued many times during the past few years to pay current expenses, a thing with which he agreed with Conner on was a very bad practice. He stated that when he was a member of the State Senate in 1916-1920, that he had voted to decrease the tax levy, yet he said nothing about the expenditures then exceeding the revenues.

He referred to the newspaper criticism about the Levee Board over which he presides as president, he having been appointed by Russell, having allowed one R.T. Clark & Co. to cancel a contract which they had defaulted on for two months and making a new contract with them without competitive bids whereby the said R. T. Clark & Co. got an increase over the former price of over $400,000. Mr. Franklin said that all this was done on the recommendation of the engineer; that if he had violated any law, that everybody knew that he would have been indicted in Coahoma County, for he lived in Earl Brewer's town and County. He said that all this had been done with the approval of the proper legal officials.

In this connection it is worthy of note that Mr. Franklin said nothing about Section 100 of the Constitution of Mississippi which absolutely forbids the very thing that he and his levee board did. The said Section 100 reads as follows:

"No obligation or liability of any person, association, or corporation held or owned by the State, or LEVEE BOARD, or any county, city, or town thereof, shall ever be remitted, released or postponed, or in anyway diminished by the legislature, nor shall such liability or obligation be extinguished except by payment thereof into the proper treasury; nor shall such liability or obligation be exchanged or transferred except upon payment of its face value; but this shall not be construed to pre-

COTTON MARKETING MEET IN GRENADA

Reasons Given Why Marketing Association is Necessary. Number Joined and the Amount of Cotton Pledged Some of the Officers.

A very interesting meeting of Farm Bureau Cotton Association Directors and farmers was held at the Mayor's office in Grenada April 18.

Three of the Directors, Mr. B. B. Wiggins, of Jackson, Mr. Guy Lee, of Carrollton, and Dr. O. B. Quinn, of McComb City were at the meeting. Mr. H. E. Savely, Field Agent for the Association and Mr. L. A. Olson, District Agent were also here and took part in the meeting.

A number of farmers from each of the following counties were here as delegates from their respective counties: Montgomery, Carroll, Yalobusha, Calhoun, Tallahatchie and Grenada.

Mr. Olson acted as chairman of the meeting. He first introduced Mr. Wiggins who went into detail as to their stewardship as Directors of this great cooperative movement. He informed the meeting that the Farm Bureau Cotton Association had about 12,000 members and a baleage of 104,000 signed up to be marketed this fall. He gave a resume of the work of organization, citing the qualifications of all the members of the Board of Directors. He outlined three principal reasons why cotton should be sold through this organization, viz; to reduce expense of selling, to leave less on the outside to be used to dump on the market, and to increase the purchasing power of all the growers of cotton. SHALL RUSSELL ANOINT HIS SUCCESSOR?

Conner Resents Lee Russell's Attempted Dictation and Malicious Insinuations and Predicts a Political "Wash Day" When People Go To The Polls.

GOVERNOR RUSSELL'S LETTER

MISSISSIPPI
Executive Department
Jackson
LEE M. RUSSELL, Governor

February 16, 1923.

Dear Sir and Friend:

Our friends throughout the State are very much interested in electing a governor this year who will take care of the interests of the plain people. We have such a man in the person of Ex-Senator Lester C. Franklin who now lives in Clarksdale but was born and reared in Choctaw county. His four years as State Senator and his entire life have been spent in voting and working for a square deal to everybody in Mississippi.

I do not think Governor Bilbo will enter this race.

Percy Bell fought Bilbo and myself and joined with the Trusts and gangsters who tried to destroy me in the last legislature. When Senator Vardaman called on him to speak last summer he flatly refused to aid him.

The Insurance Trusts will take either Whitfield or Conner. Both of these are their candidates. If Franklin does not win in the first primary, he will surely do so in the second.

I believe you are interested in good government and I am writing to urge you to support Senator Franklin and thus protect the interest of our great State from the Trusts and Combines—that set of lawbreakers who refused to obey the law and who were required to pay a large sum after suit was brought by Honorable Stokes Robertson. They would put up any amount of money to elect Whitfield or Conner. They would even take Bell, whose sympathy is with them, if they had the chance. They want to destroy the Revenue Agent's office, elect a Governor and legislature. It is up to the fairminded, liberty loving, citizens of Mississippi to protect the people from this calamity.

I will thank you to let me hear from you and I trust you will join with us in this, the greatest in the State's history.

Assuring you of my best wishes and kindest regards, I am

Your friend,
(Signed) LEE M. RUSSELL,
LMR-d Governor.

CONNER'S REPLY

Hattiesburg, Miss., Feb. 23.—"Any insinuation or statement expressed or implied that any insidious influence is inspiring, fostering on backing my candidacy is wilfully and maliciously false and I challenge Lee Russell and those who take orders from him to indicate one work or word of my eight years of official record that was not for the welfare of the whole people."

Thus did Sennett Conner, Speaker of the House and candidate for governor, reply to the recent letter of Lee Russell, in which the governor unqualifiedly endorsed L. C. Franklin, of Clarksdale, as his successor and violently denounced all other candidates. Mr. Conner was in the city today and when interviewed, further said:

"This political cadaver sounds the old demagogic cry of 'Wolf, Wolf, Wolf,' which has been used in the campaigns in the past, but this made-to-order rot has lost its magic.

"An awakened public conscience in our state and the coming of women into public affairs means that reckless charges, bombastic utterances and Andy Gump platforms of utopian platitudes and glittering generalities will not win. The real measure of a man's fitness for public office is the record of his achievements in the past and not his ability to make promises for the future. The devil is the greatest maker of promises of the ages.

"Russell has anointed his crown prince to succeed him, but imperialistic successions don't go in democratic Mississippi. The people do not want a continuation of the present regime, and the concealment of its errors, intentional and otherwise. They want to be assured of a 'wash day' after the next election, and that is what I will give them if I am elected. This voice crying from the political sepulchre has named the "Moses" but few will regard the call as coming from very high inspiration.

"I do not fear Russell's opposition, for I have been thriving under it for several years. In 1920, after months of most violent activity on his part, he was unable to muster sufficient strength to place a candidate in the field against me, and I was unanimously re-elected speaker. Since then, day by day, in every way, he has grown weaker and weaker. But I do resent his characterization of the thousands of men and women who refuse to worship at his political shrine as 'gangsters.' If it is a crime to refuse to accept orders from Russell, then I am a hardened criminal.

"I had hoped this campaign would be free of the disturbing activities of the factionalist and the political dirt-dobber. People of all factions are tired of this bitter, internal strife, and they want co-operative effort and development to relieve the burdens under which they are staggering. I have served as speaker for eight years without an appeal from a ruling not because I am a superior man, for I know my limitations, but because I gave every class and faction a square deal. That is the only way to give Mississippi a happy, successful administration, and I pledge myself to a continuation of that policy. The time-serving politican, without a record to commend his candidacy, will continue to wave the bloody shirt."

Mr. Conner concluded, "The fight is on and I am in it to the finish for the principles for which I have stood in the past. You may say that I am going to make 300 speeches in this campaign, from one boundary line to the other, and that I shall submit to the people recorded facts, not extravagant claims and reckless charges, for their consideration."

"We have lived here, near Jennings, for 26 years, and now we have our own home in town. I have had to work pretty hard, as this country wasn't built up, and it made it hard for us.

"I WISH I could tell weak women of Cardui—the medicine that helped give me the strength to go on and do my work."

vent the legislature from providing by general law for the compromise of doubtful claims."

Mr. Franklin said that while taxes were high that there was a great deal of property escaping taxation, or was being inadequately assessed. He said that while there were many small property holders who were either escaping taxes or being inadequately assessed, he did not mean to say that small property holders were any more scrupulous than the larger property holders, but that when the large property dolder got by on taxes that the effect was so much the worse for the County and the State. As an instance, he cited what he stated was the action of the State Tax Commission in having an estimate made recently of the timber on the land belonging to the Gayoso, Kraetzer-Cured, and the Brown Lumber Cos., which he said was being assessed at a total of a little more than forty million feet of timber whereas the cruise by the estimators showed over one hundred and seventy million feet of timber.

What Mr. Franklin stated about the timber assessment is no doubt true, but let's ask, who is it you blame forthe low assessment of this timber? Is there any more timber there now than was there when these lumber concerns bought it, and if not why was this timber not properly assessed when in the hands of private individuals? As a matter of fact is it not true that there is really less timber there now than when these concerns bought it only 2 or 3, or perhaps five, years ago for the reason that much of it has been cut? It might also be asked, Is this the way to encourage capital and new enterprises by "hopping" them as soon as they get located and taxing them more on the same stuff than the same property was taxed before they bought it?

This paper does not mean to hold or suggest that because property has been escaping taxes that it should continue to escape, but the point it is trying to develop is the politics that shuts its eyes to inadequate assessments until property passes out of the hands of private individuals and gets into the hands of a corporation.

Mr. Franklin referred to the suit filed by the State Revenue Agent against the Fire Insurance companies for alleged violation of the anti-trust law and gave the suit his approval.

He said that he was in favor of retaining the office of State Revenue Agent on a commission basis and appeared to think that he was the only man running for Governor who held that view.

It is worthy of surmise that Mr. Conner while here did not discuss the changing of the salary of any State official perhaps because, he is running for Governor, and he no doubt reasoned that at this time there is no more reason to discuss the matter of changing the basis of the compensation of the office of revenue agent than there is for changing the basis of the compensation of the Attorney General, for example.

Mr. Franklin said nothing about the law that Gov. Russell approved allowing capital to put its money into insurance companies organized in Mississippi and allowing them to go free of taxes.

He made no reference to his presence at Oxford when Gov. Russell was on trial for alleged immoral relations with Frances Birkhead. He made no comment on the story going the rounds of the press that it is believed that Gov. Russell has made assessments on the nearly 100 employes of the penitentiary to aid his (Franklin's) campaign.

He made no reference to the letters that Gov. Russell has sent broadcast over the State to any he might think would give a letter from him any mention urging his (Franklin) election.

He stated that he voted for Vardaman as against Pat Harrison and Lee Russell as against Oscar Johnson, a statement no doubt made to emphasize the idea that he was expecting the vote of what remains of that element.

He made no mention of the political gossip about his and Bilbo arbitrating as to who should make the race, he or Bilbo,and that the arbitrators consisted of ten picked men which ten picked five more and that these arbitrators decided by a vote of 8 to 7 that Franklin instead of Bilbo should run.

Mr. Franklin said that he was willing to stand upon what the women of Clarksdale said about his moral character, and that if made Governor, he would lead the same life that he has as a private citizen.

Mr. Franklin declared himself as in favor of education but he said as between the colleges and the public schools, he favored the latter.

He declared himself as strongly in favor of aiding the farmer in every possible way and pledged himself to support measures looking to aiding the farmer in marketing his crops.

He stated that he was in favor of good roads but said that he would oppose the improvement of roads already good enough until there were better roads built where the farmer could readily reach the railroad.

Mr. Franklin reminded the press of Mississippi that he took a leading part in framing the "Franklin printing law" which greatly aided the printing industry of the State and which law had done much to stop grafting by some county officials.

The writer believes Mr. Franklin t be a morally clean man, indeed every man in the race will meet the moral test.

The unfortunate thing for Mr. Franklin, if he were otherwise thoroughly qualified for the office of Governor, is the political company he has been keeping and worst of all is the effort Lee Russell is making to name him as his successor. If perchance Franklin should be elected, Russell would forthwith flap his befouled wings and give the frizzly rooster crow and say, "I am now called to run against Pat Harrison."

Mr. Franklin is a pleasing speaker and personally a really likable gentleman. It is unfortunate for him that so many of his political associates wear the brand of an Ishmaelite with a majority of the Democrats of Mississippi. That Scriptural statement, "evil communications corrupt good manners" is being thought over more and more by the men and the women of Mississippi and they are paraphrasing that Biblical warning thus: "Evil political associates bring into question the best, however, good their intentions may be."

When Mr. Franklin purges himself of his political company, he may be seriously considered for Governor within the next few years.

The following is Mr. Franklin's platform:

To the White Democrats of Mississippi:

I have the honor to submit herewith my views in brief upon some of the leading questions which in my opinion now confront the people of Mississippi. Upon these views, my ability, public and private record, and other matters to be discussed during the campaign, I hereby base my claim to your suffrage at the coming Democratic Primaries:

Law Enforcement

I favor the strict enforcement of all laws. I am sure that all good citizens will agree with me that every law for the prevention and punishment of crime should be rigidly enforced. This is especially true of the laws against the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors. I endorse the active cooperation of the State and Federal Authorities in the apprehension and speedy prosecution of persons engaged in this nefarious traffic. I do not believe that the pardoning power should be exercised, except in such cases where it is manifest to the world that it should be exercised.

Recognition of Women

By Constitutional Amendment women have been rightfully given the ballot and every white woman of our State has been accorded the full legal right of holding offices to which her splendid intellectual endowment have for so long entitled her. I have always advocated Woman Suffrage and it was my privilege to vote and work for it as a member of the State Senate prior to the passage of the suffrage amendment. I shall take pleasure in according to the women of Mississippi memberships with men upon the Board of Trustees of our eleemosynary institutions where she can be most helpful to the State. I favor this course as a matter of justice to the women. But over and above that, I favor it because thereby the State will benefit by her wisdom, discretion, sound judgment, and close contact with the young men and women of the State.

Public Health

I shall at all times cooperate with the Public Health Authorities in their efforts to safeguard the health of the people, especially the children of the State.

Schools

I shall favor, as I have always favored, liberal appropriations for common schools. One of the most rational and profitable duties of enlightened government is the education of its children. Money invested in the education of the youth will give us capable and wise leaders in the years to come and thus perpetuate the institutions of Government bequested to us, a sacred trust by our forefathers.

Agriculture

Mississippi is an agricultural State and her future prosperity depends upon the proper development of her agricultural resources. I believe all the powers of the great office of Governor should be exercised to promote better farming conditions and marketing facilities. The farmer does not need charity at the hands of the State, but simple justice.

Public Roads

One of the greatest questions before the people of Mississippi is that of good roads. The adoption by the people in November, 1922, of an Amendment to the Constitution authorizing the Legislature to designate certain roads as "State Highways" shows the interest the people themselves are taking in the problem. The next Legislature will be called upon to decide what roads shall be set aside as "State Highways." This is vitally important because the roads so designated by the Legislature will receive all the money contributed by the Federal Government which now amounts to about a million and a quarter dollars annually. In my judgment, this Federal Aid money should be largely used in building roads from the market towns to the rural sections, rather than on roads from station to station along the railroads, thus affording the farmer a good road to and from his marketing point under all weather conditions the year round. I do not oppose the building or maintaining of trunk highways, but on the contrary most heartily favor such roads. However, I do not wish to prefer such highways over the lateral roads. Both are necessary to progress and civilization.

Labor

I believe it is the duty of the State to lend every assistance and cooperation to the man or woman who toils. I recognize the inherent right of labor to organize and bargain collectively for better wages and improve working conditions.

Economy In State Government

I favor a policy of rigid economy in every branch of State Government. In no case should appropriations for current expenses exceed revenues; nor should there be additional State Bonds issued for any purpose where it is possible to avoid it. Taxation is a subject of vital importance. I believe in keeping taxes as low as possible and in curtailing expenditures at every point possible to do so, to the end that the burden of taxation may be reduced. This can be done by strict economy and by compelling property now unlawfully escaping taxation to be placed upon the tax rolls, a uniform and equitable assessment of all taxable property and seeing to it that law violators do not escape their obligations to the State.

Trusts and Combines.

I am opposed to all unlawful trusts and combines whether it be a school book trust, fire insurance trust, lumber trust, or any other kind of trust; they are defined by our Code of Laws written by our wise statesmen years ago as: "A conspiracy to defraud." This means a trust is a conspiracy to cheat and steal from the people. Our State Constitution of 1890, Section 198 thereof, speaks in no uncertain terms on this subject, saying: "The Legislature shall enact laws to prevent all trusts, combines, contracts and agreements, inimical to the public welfare." Likewise, the Supreme Court of the United States has said, "Competition is a law of trade and much better than any sort of human arrangement with reference to supervision and control of prices." Our own anti-trust statutes, wisely written in obedience to the mandates of Section 198 of the Constitution, say: "This law shall be liberally constructed in all Courts to the end that trusts and combines may be suppressed and the benefits arising from competition in business preserved to the people of this State."

At this time in our State's history when defiant corporations are insidiously insinuating themselves before the people and brazenly demanding that we change our time-tried and righteous laws on the subject of trusts and combines, every candidate for office whose duties may in any wise pertain to legislation, should be required by the people to define definitely his or her views on this subject. I am unalterably opposed to any change that would weaken our present laws against trusts and combines; on the contrary, I favor the strengthening of these laws and the rigid enforcement of same. I am not opposed to honest capital coming to the State; on the other hand, I invite it, but let it be understood that unless laws be strongly written and strongly and conscientiously and fearlessly enforced, our children will be given only the heritage of being "hewers of wood and drawers of water" for the trusts. God forbid!

Revenue Agent's Office

I hereby favor the retention of the Revenue Agent's Office as now constituted and run. It has been effective for forty years, placing millions of dollars in the State, various school districts, municipal, levee and county treasuries and never costing the State or any such district, municipalities or counties a single cent. I favor the Revenue Agent's Office for these reasons and for the further reason that tax dodgers, trust and combines, their friends and sympathisers oppose it and want it destroyed.

Conclusion

It is my avowed purpose to wage this campaign upon a high and honorable plane. I shall carry my cause to the people of the State discussing with them all issues openly, frankly and fearlessly, refusing to resort to tricks and deceptions in an effort to obtain votes. I shall stand or fall squarely upon my own merits and views upon public questions. Realizing that the honor and glory of Mississippi is paramount to the ambition of any man, I pledge the people if elected their Chief Executive to be the Governor of all the people, serving all sections alike, assuring in advance every citizen a clean, faithful, honest and businesslike administration.

I am yours for a greater, grander, and more glorious Mississippi.

Russell's school book adoption in 1920 is certainly milking the Mississippi public. The old cow may kick, but she is tied by the contract for five years, or until 1925.

Just one of the numerous instances wherein the parents of Mississippi are required to pay more for the same book than they are in Tennessee:

Mrs. Devalcourt Could Not Walk Across Room

Louisiana Woman Was in a Serious Condition but is at Last Relieved by Taking Stella Vitae Treatment.

"When a woman who has suffered as much as I have finds a sure remedy for her troubles I think she owes it to the world to tell what helped her," said Mrs. Thomas Devalcourt, a well-known resident of Eunice, La., not long ago.

"I am forty-three years old," she continued, 'and at the most critical period of a woman's life. For some time I had been going down hill getting weaker and weaker till about a year ago I was too weak at times to walk across the floor without support."

"When my periods came on I would bloat up something awful and the misery all through my body was almost more than I could bear and it would be sometimes two weeks before I would get over it. I felt very blue, for I could not enjoy going out visiting my friends and it made me feel terrible thinking I would never be well and strong again.'

"But Stella Vitae has changed all that. I began taking it about a year ago and felt the change for the better right away. I am strong enough now to do my housework and go out visiting my friends whenever I want to."

The ingredients of Stella Vitae are each of recognized therapeutic value and unquestioned merit in the treatment of what is commonly known as female troubles. For years science has known of their value and has used them in various forms, experiencing more or less satisfactory results in general practice, but never with that degree of perfection that is possible when used in the combination and proportions as in Stella Vitae.

Note—Stella Vitae may be obtained from any druggist and is sold upon the positive guarantee that the purchase price will be refunded if it fails to bring relief. Druggists are supplied from the Van Vleet-Mansfield Drug Co., Memphis., Tenn, Distributors.—Adv.

FEDERATION ADOPTS RESOLUTIONS OF APPRECIATION

State Federation of Women's Clubs Greatly Appreciate the Courtesies Shown Them in Grenada.

The report of the Courtesy Committee of the Mississippi Federation of Women's Clubs in session in Grenada last week carried the following resolutions with reference to the entertainment of the Federation:

"We the courtesy committee find ourselves in this effort to express our appreciation so overburdened with gratitude as to be unable to couch our thoughts in language other than the superlative.

"The committees which met at the trains were bevies of cultured women; each division a nucleus of Grenada's womanhood in flower, and each individual an important unit of the State Federation.

"Truly hospitality met us at the very gate not only in your women but in your boy scouts—all honor to them. Delegates and guests and less important members of our Federation, one and all pronounce Grenada the queenly city of the State in regard to her natural beauty and cordial welcome of homes and hearts. But we enjoyed to the fullest the fireside in your cozy homes and your bountiful and very appetizing meals

"Grenada College is an ideal place for such an occasion—the commodious auditorium, the pretty parlors, the spacious corridors have met our every need. The faculty and the charming young women of the College who have so courteously acted as pages and served us in every way possible, and have shown us such a whole-hearted welcome—these we want to particularly thank, and we hope that the coming years will find these lovely girls grown into full flowered womanhood carrying on the work we are now doing.

"So we want to thank from the depths of our hearts—

1—The Woman's Club of Grenada.

2—Dr. J. R. Countiss and wife and the faculty of Grenada College from the highest to the lowest, and the students of Grenada College.

3—Mr. A. M. Carothers, who tho' he withheld the "keys of the city" gave us better.

4—The whole citizenship of Grenada for cars and many courtesies.

5—We want the State officers of the M. F. W. C. particularly the president, who has labored so diligently and fruitfully to make this meeting both interesting and inspiring, to know how we appreciate her efforts.

6—Also the splendid women of other states who came to us to give us a broader vision, particularly Mrs. Winter and Mrs. Oberndorfer.

7—Mr. John Borden, who loaned his beautiful home that we might enjoy a beautiful social hour.

8—The boy scouts who met the trains and took care of the baggage.

9—The cooperation of the public schools.

10—And effort would be fruitless, indeed, if we failed to give expression of our gratitude to Mr. O. F. Lawrence, editor of The Grenada Sentinel, and his co-workers, and also for the press reports sent daily papers.

"We greatly appreciate the entertainment by College teams and especially would we not overlook to thank the young ladies of the College for vacating their rooms to accomodate some of our delegates, and Dr. and Mrs. Countiss were always thoughtful.

"With every good wish for Grenada and hope and believe that her hospitality will never exceed our appreciation."

W. K. GRAY FOR SUPERVISOR, DISTRICT 5

The Sentinel is authorized to place the candidacy of Mr. W K. Gray before the voters of district 5 for the office of supervisor.

Mr. Gray was reared in Carroll County and comes from one of the best and most prominent families of that County, and he has shown himself to be a worthy son of worthy sires.

For several years he has been a resident of the LeFlore community where he is at present engaged in merchandising and farming. He is known as a frugal, calculating business man and as one who can be relied upon to keep his word and to be faithful in all things. He enjoys the confidence and the esteem of his neighbors and is known as a kind and obliging friend.

Mr. Gray has no doubt given serious thought to what is needed in a supervisor and undoubtedly believes that he is capable of meeting the trying duties of the office in these perplexing times, and he offers his standing as a citizen and his record as a successful farmer and merchant as an earnest of what he will do, if made supervisor.

Mr. Gray evidently contemplates making a personal canvass of his district, and The Sentinel feels that the voters of that end of the County will give his candidacy every consideration.

ADDITIONAL HONORS FOR GRENADA HIGH SCHOOL

Later results from the written contests held during the North Central Mississippi School Meet have been announced. In Citizenship Maxwell McCormick is awarded first place; In Ancient History Lesley Hill tied for second place. It was announced at the College that Frances Brown had won second place in Literature but the judge who graded the papers has announced that a more careful later grading gives Frances Brown first place with a margin of three points.

APPRECIATION OF SCHOOL AUTHORITIES

In behalf of the school as well as for myself personally, I wish to thank the people of Grenada for opening their homes to the three hundred contestants at our Field Meet last Friday and Saturday, and for the very generous manner in which the whole town entered in the caring for the meet and the spirit of interest in the whole affair. I cannot commend too highly Grenada's splendid loyalty to her school interests.

LESSON FOR APRIL 29

RUTH THE FAITHFUL DAUGHTER

LESSON TEXT—Book of Ruth.

GOLDEN TEXT—Thy people shall be my people and thy God my God.—Ruth 1:16.

PRIMARY TOPIC—The Story of Ruth.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Ruth and Naomi.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Secret of Ruth's Noble Life.

I. Ruth's Connection With Naomi (Chapter 1:1-15). On account of famine in Bethlehem of Judah, Naomi with her husband and two sons sojourned in the land of Moab. After the death of her husband her two sons married Moabitish women. After a time her sons died also. After the death of her sons Naomi resolved to return to her homeland, having heard that the Lord had visited His people in giving them bread. They went to Moab to escape trouble but only got into more. It was not until Naomi was thus chastised that she resolved to return. Naomi had the good sense to recognize that the hand of the Lord was upon her for good. When the time came for her to go Ruth and Orpah accompanied her, for a distance. This she permitted but determined to place before them frankly the difficulties which would necessarily confront them. It was this frank presentation of the difficulties and her repeated urging them to go back that called forth from Ruth the expression of her noble choice.

II. Ruth's Noble Choice (1:16-18). Much as Naomi loved her daughters-in-law, she would not have them go into this matter blindly. She told them the worst that could come upon them. This principle ought to be carried out by us in all our relations in life. In business the spirit of frankness should be manifest. At home we should deal with each other in the most straightforward way. The same thing should characterize our behavior in the church and society. Note the difficulty which confronted Ruth:

1. No Chance to Marry Again. Naomi told her that she had no more sons for whom she could wait. In that day to be unmarried was the greatest disgrace. Society differed then from now.

2. She Must Renounce Her Gods. Her idolatrous worship could not be carried on in the land where God's people dwelt. This was delicately touched upon when Orpah went back (v. 15). Orpah went back when it was plain there was no chance to get a husband. Now Naomi puts an additional test upon Ruth, that of giving up her religion. Ruth was equal to the occasion. Her mind was fully made up. She was willing to accept as her God the one who was able to produce in his subjects the nobility of character she had observed in Naomi. Naomi's very frankness in dealing with her caused Ruth to be more determined to cast her lot with her. Ruth's position was so definite and unfaltering that the very expressions have come down to us in words which "no poetry has out-rivaled, and no pathos has exceeded, and which has gone through centuries with the music that will not let them be forgotten." She was determined to share Naomi's journey, her home, her lodge, her lot in life, and her grave in death, whatever that would be. To crown it all she would renounce her heathen gods and worship Jehovah.

III. Blessings Which Attended Ruth's Faithfulness. Ruth was never sorry for her choice, because—

1. She Found the True God (1:16). Instead of her heathen gods who were unable to help her she now had a living God, the God of Israel, as her God.

2. She Found Human Friends. (Chapter 2). As she went to glean in the field she was led to the field of Boaz, a man of wealth and grace. The servants of Boaz treated her with consideration. Even Boaz gave instructions for special consideration to be given her.

3. A Good Husband and a Happy Home (3-4). She not only secured a husband, but a man of God who had an abundance of this world's goods.

4. An Honored Place in the Israelitish Nation (4:13-17). Though she had to forsake her own people she became one of a nobler people.

5. She Became a Link in the Chain of Christ's Ancestry (4:18-22 compare Matthew 1:5). The one who fully decides for Christ and gives up all for him shall get a hundred-fold in this life, and in the world to come, eternal life.

FIGURES AS TO STREET PAVING INCORRECT

It is one of the duties of a newspaper to advise its readers on public matters and to inform them in regard to any particular feature of a question where they are probably not already advised.

In discharging this duty to our readers in the City of Grenada last week wherein we advised those who might desire to do so how they could protest against the proposed street paving, we incidentally mentioned the probable cost of the paving in the following words:

"As this paper understands, the total cost of the paving is estimated at from $150,000 to $175,000 and if the matter is proceeded with it is understood that the Council will take the necessary steps to issue bonds to the amount of sixty or seventy thousand dollars."

We are advised that we were in error as to the probable cost, and that the total cost, will be around $65,000.00.

We assumed that if the City was to bear only a third of the cost, and that a bond issue of "sixty or seventy thousand dollars" was contemplated, that the bond issue was for the purpose of bearing the City's one third, but it appears to be the purpose that the bond issue shall cover the whole cost and that property owners shall pay the City direct.

There are many who think the street paving order covered too much. This paper doubts if the order had covered only Main and South streets whereby connection with the Jefferson Davis Highway would have been had, whether there would have been anything said in opposition.

WHOOP 'EM UP FOR BOND ISSUE—TAXES NOT HIGH ENOUGH

The following is taken from the paper edited by Senator Mayfield at Houston, Texas, the new United States Senator from the Lone Star State, and what is stated is so pertinent to so many communities throughout the country, that The Sentinel is reproducing it:

"Vote for the Houston Municipal bond issue.

"Taxes are not high enough.

"The people are chafing under the lack of taxation.

"Houstonians are a proud people and they want the name of being the highest tax payers on earth. At present Germany has it on us a little, but two years more of the progressive Holcombe administration Germany will look like a cheap piker.

"If we can get another school building like Central High for $500,000 we will be lucky things. It is easily worth $200,000 of anybody's money.

"Vote for the bond issue.

"Vote for the bond issue.

"Somebody give us a slogan.

"Let's whoop up the taxes. It may drive a lot of industries away, but think of the grand old contractors who will wax fat. A city that won't look out for its contractors is a poor city."

MONEY FIGURES SHOW SOME STRANGE THINGS

It is stated that the total resources in all of the 30,846 banks in the United States, including the 12 reserve banks, amount to $55,330,215,000; that the capital and surplus of these banks is $6,916,300,000 and that the value of the real estate and bank equipment of these institutions are, $8,072,315,000. The total deposits are $40,341,600,000 while the total stock of money in the country is only $8,177,447,105.

The same authority states that the stock of gold in the U. S. treasury is, $3,784,651,712.

The U. S. Mint Bureau estimates that there has not been more that $18,000,000,000 of gold mined since the discovery of America.

It is stated that the money stocks of the world have never exceeded $8,500,000,000, and today the United States possesses nearly one half of this visible stock.

The unit of weighing gold is the troy ounce, and a "fine" ounce means an ounce of pure gold. Under the law the mint value of gold does not fluctuate but remains the same, or $20.67183462 per fine ounce.

Of the over three billions of gold in the U. S. treasury $200,336,150 actually belongs to the United States Government, the bulk of the remainder is deposited with the New York federal reserve banks for the purpose of issuing federal reserve notes against it.

Since the year 1793 up to June 30, 1922, there had been coined by U. S. mints $44,401,955.27 in one cent pieces, of which slightly over forty two million are outstanding and still in circulation.

There are $54,836,416 in nickles in circulation. There are over two millions in one half cent pieces, and two and three cent pieces outstanding.

The same authority states that there is $863,389,318 of gold coin in the United States; $381,174,404 of silver dollars and $271,210,886 of subsidiary coin, such as dimes, quarters and half dollars.

No "sissy" campaigning is needed now in Mississippi. Let's get behind a man for Governor who has convictions and who is willing to take the people into his confidence to tell them what he believes and what he will try to do, should he be elected.

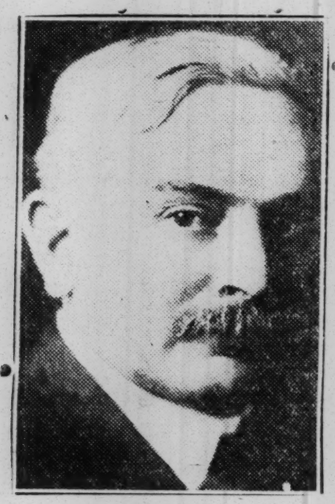
INTERESTING SKETCH OF JOSEPH NEWBURGER

Under the above caption the Cotton and Cotton Oil News has the following to say of Mr. Joseph Newburger:

Joseph Newburger, is perhaps the most widely known cotton man in the South, and is an international figure in the cotton world. His keen conception, his wide experience and his foresight into the things and conditions governing the cotton industry have placed him at the top of the long list of cotton experts and netted him an enormous fortune. Mr. Newburger was born in Coffeeville, Mississippi, June 12, 1858, the son of Leopold and Esther Lichtenstadter Newburger. He completed his education at Spring Hill Colege, Mobile,



JOSEPH NEWBURGER

Ala., in 1874, and took charge of his father's business when only 18 years of age, his disability having been removed by the legislature of Mississippi. In 1879 he organized the firm of Newburger & Kory, in his home town. Thus he began a career that has been phenomenal. In 1885 he formed the Newburger Cotton Company, the institution through which he has expended the greater part of his energy and ability and amassed a large portion of his magnificent estate. Soon after the organization of this concern, Mr. Newburger moved his office and residence to Memphis where from the very first he was recognized as a genius in his line and has proved himself one of the biggest-hearted public-spirited citizens of Memphis. He has made scores of trips to Europe, first in connection with his export cotton business, and next for pleasure. He is familiar with, not only the countries of that continent, but with all the principal cities and many of the smaller cities. He is an expert diagnostician of business conditions, both at home and abroad.

Possibly no other man in the South has more lines of business than Mr. Newburger, commercial financial, manufacturing and eleemosynary. He is president of the Newburger Cotton Company, Incorporated; President of the Memphis Packing Corporation; controls Thirty Two compresses located in the States of Mississippi, Arkansas, Tennessee, Louisiana and Oklahoma; President of the Joy Rice Milling Company, Wheatley, Arkansas; partner in the Newburger Company, planters and stock raisers, in his native county; President of the Merchants Cotton Press & Storage Company, Memphis, Tenn.,; member of the Memphis, New Orleans and New York Cotton Exchanges, and associate member of the Liverpool Cotton Exchange; President of the Congregation Children of Israel; member of the board of managers of the Methodist Hospital, Cripple Children's Hospital, Elizabeth Club, New Jewish Hospital, the Federation of Jewish Charities, National Board of Jewish War Relief, Porter Leath Orphan Asylum, Baron Hirsch Congregation, Young Women's Christian Association, Director in the Rotary Club, member of the Scottish Rite Cathedral, member of the Coffeeville Masonic Lodge, member of the Chamber of Commerce, Memphis, Tennessee.

Much of his time and means is being devoted to girl's work and to the Newsboys' Club, and he is now promoting a large building for the Newsboys' Club of Memphis, and enlarging his activities in girls' work; all of which will be dedicated to his little girls, Joy and Mary Newburger.

The Newburger Cotton Company, up to several years ago, was a copartnership of Joseph and Edwin Newburger. The present Company has been in existence about seven years. It is now a stock company with one million dollars capital. The present officers are : Joseph Newburger, President: D. W. Brooks, Vice-President; W. H. Willey, Vice-President; Norman Monaghan, Secretary and Treasurer. The company handled approximately three hundred thousand bales of cotton last season.

The present organization represents large farming interests, and control through their own stockholders an enormous amount of cotton. They make a specialty of establishing offices only in towns that receive the best cottons, especially as to staple. They have an organization that has been trained in the staple business, The selection of benders, or hard character cotton for fine spinners is their specialty. They pride themselves that as staple shippers they number among their clients the largest, and some of the most influential, mills in the trade. Their staple brands are well known to the trade.

The Newburger Cotton Company, Inc., have their own representation in Enschede, Holland, by the Twentsche Overzee Handle Maatschappij, and their representative is Max Westerdyk for Central Europe. They claim Forty-Four years continuous shipment to mills without the loss of a customer, and all they ask in staple cotton, which requires expert knowledge, is to ask the mills to whom they ship, and on this they base their reputation.

Engineering & Supervision	1,281.95
Total Cost of City's Share	$26,920.70

Dividing this and the interest thereon into ten equal yearly payments, it will amount to $3,486.23 or a fraction less than 1¾ mills on the present assessed valuation of $2,000,000.

However, the City now pays about $3,300 a year for oiling the streets, over three-quarters of which oiling is done on the streets which it is proposed to pave, which will mean a saving of over $2,500 a year in the oiling cost. If this saving is applied on the paving cost, it will leave less than one-half mill.

There will also be a further saving in the cost of working these streets, which is not an inconsiderable item.

The cost to the property owners on the streets proposed to be paved will be as follows per front foot:-

North Main St.	$2.79
South Main St.	2.39
Line, South, Second, Doak & Green Sts.	1.89
Margin & Harvey Sts.	1.44

Dividing this cost and the interest thereon into ten equal yearly payments, the cost to the property owners per front foot a year will be as follows:-

North Main St.	36c
South Main St.	31c
Line, South, Second, Doak & Green Sts.	25c
Margin & Harvey Sts.	19c

For some time it has been a matter of almost daily occurence to every member of the City Council to be stopped on the street by property owners and asked when we are going to give them more paving.

In response to these specifying those streets on which there seemed to be the greatest demand for paving.

In order that the taxpayers in general and the property owners on the streets involved may know accurately the cost of the proposed work, the undersigned Committee has secured the foregoing figures and submits them without argument as to the desirability or expediency of the work. That is for the property owners and taxpayers to decide.

Respectfully,
S. T. TATUM

BIG DEMAND FOR FORDS

"More people want Ford Cars than ever before," A. J. McCaslin local Ford dealer said this week.

"Fifty thousand more Fords were sold at retail in March than in any one month in the history of the Ford Motor Company, according to word from Detroit.

"For a whole year sales have been over 100,000 a month, bringing a total of 1,429,979 Ford Cars and Trucks into use in the United States alone since April 1, 1922.

"Here in Grenada, the March sales were 34 cars, a big increase over last year for the same month.

"And Ford Cars are now easier to obtain than ever before because of the new Ford Weekly Purchase Plan which makes it possible for more families to have a car."

WOMAN'S CLUB EXPRESSES APPRECIATION

As I sat in the College Auditorium last week and listened to the resolution of thanks to the people of Grenada and the Grenada Club being read, I echoed each word with an added appreciation for each one of you who made our undertaking possible. The resolution of thanks named you all, the Boy Scouts at the train, the girls who acted as pages, the men and women who opened their homes to the delegates and loaned us their cars, Dr. and Mrs. Countiss and the members of the College faculty, Mr. Borden and Mr. Lawrence, and each one of you who helped us. I wish I had the time and the space to call you each by name and say a special "thank you" to each one of you; but you may be sure that we saw and appreciated everything you did.

One delegate said to me that she never saw a town where everyone seemed so anxious to make guests feel welcome as Grenada had done; that people spoke to them on the streets and were never too busy to stop and answer questions or give directions. I was not surprised for I knew that was the way Grenada would do.

What each of you did was needed to make the entertainment of the convention a success—we could not have done it alone. We appreciate deeply your help, and for all that you did, I want to thank you, for myself and for the Woman's Club.

Mrs. Selwyn M. Jones,
Pres. Grenada Woman's Club.

DODGE BROTHERS TYPE-A SEDAN

Its dependability is taken for granted—its economy of operation is proverbial.

Comment, as a rule, is directed to the richness of its fittings, and the dignified beauty of its coach work.

This beauty is not a superficial thing. It goes much deeper than mere external adornments.

Like all creations of genuine excellence, it emanates from the honest value which Dodge Brothers have built into the car.

You sense it in the depth and comfort of the seats—richly upholstered in genuine mohair velvet. It makes itself known the instant you close the doors—which snap solidly shut, like the doors of a safe. It emanates unmistakably from every line and curve of the sturdy body.

It becomes most evident when you discover that in smart company, where a car of less distinction would appear at its worst, Dodge Brothers Type-A Sedan appears at its best.

The price of the Type-A Sedan is $1580 delivered

SYNOPSIS

CHAPTER I.—To the Three-Bar ranch, Arizona, owned jointly by Sandy Bourke, "Mormon" Peters and "Soda-Water Sam" Manning, a dog makes its way, in the last stages of exhaustion. Inscription on its collar says its name is Grit, "property of P. Casey." Scenting a desert tragedy, Bourke and Sam mount and let the dog lead them.

CHAPTER II.—The two find a dying man, Patrick Casey, pinned under an overturned wagon, and a young girl, his daughter. They get him out, but he dies almost instantly, murmuring "Molly—mines." Sandy takes the girl, Molly, to the ranch.

CHAPTER III.—It is agreed that Molly stays as "mascot" of the ranch. Sandy insists, though, that she must have an education. Jim Plimsoll, gambler, visiting the ranch, insults Molly. He claims he grubstaked Casey, which made him the old man's partner. Mormon drives him off.

CHAPTER IV

Sandy Calls the Turn.

It was a week after Plimsoll's dismissal from the Three Star premises, that one of the riders, coming back from Hereford with the mail, brought rumors of a new strike at Dynamite.

The man said that Plimsoll had stated that he expected to go over to the mining camp in the interests of claims located by Patrick Casey in which he had a half-interest, by reason of having grubstaked the prospector.

"There's the thorn under that saddle," said Sandy to Mormon. "That's what Jim Plimsoll meant by his 'deal.' I don't believe he'd stir up things unless he was fairly sure there was something doin' oveh to Dynamite. Molly ses her dad never grubstaked. She don't lie an' she was close to the old man. Mo' like pardners than dad an' daughter. Plimsoll smells somethin'. Figgers there's somethin' in the rumor an' stahts this talk of bein' pardners with Casey 'cause there's a strike. Me, I'm goin' to take a pasear to town soon an' I'll have a li'l conversation with Jim the Gambolier."

"Count me in on that," said Sam.

"Me, too," said Mormon.

"Can't all three leave the ranch at once," demurred Sandy.

There came the noise of the riders going off for the day's duties, laid out by Sam, acting foreman for the month. Sandy got up and went to the window, turning in mock dismay.

"Here comes that Bailey female," he announced. "Young Ed Bailey drivin' the flivver. Sure stahted bright an' early. Wonder what she's nosin' afteh now? Mormon—an' you, Sam," he added sharply, "you'll stick around till she goes. Sabe? I don't aim to be talked to death an' then pickled by her vinegar, like I was las' time she come oveh."

A tinny machine, in need of paint, short of oil, braked squeakingly as a horn squawked and the auto halted by the porch steps. Young Ed Bailey slung one leg over another disproportionate limb, glanced at the windows, rolled a cigarette and lit it. His aunt, tall, gaunt, clad in starched dress and starched sunbonnet, descended, strode across the porch and entered the living room, her bright eyes darting all about, needling Molly, taking in every detail.

"Out lookin' fo' a stray," she announced. "Red-an' white heifer we had up to the house for milkin'. Got rambuncterous an' loped off. Had one horn crumpled. Rawhide halter, ef she ain't got rid of it. You ain't seen her, hev you?"

ALL WHO WANT TO VOTE IN THE PRIMARY

Must Have Registered Since Order For New Registration.

The board of supervisors some three months ago ordered a new registration of the voters of Grenada County. The board was of the opinion that a new registration was necessary because the old poll books and the registration books were badly marked up and there was confusion otherwise in understanding just who in many cases, was accurately and correctly registered.

Hence it was necessary to get new books and to reregister all who desire to vote.

Bear in mind that a registration under which one voted last year will be no good this year.

Since the order by the board of supervisors and the receipt of the New Books, I have registered a large number of voters, yet the great majority are still to register.

In order to accomodate the voters, I will visit the different precincts of the County on the dates named below for the purpose of registering all who desire to register.

Tie Plant precinct, Monday, May 7.
Elliott precinct, Tuesday, May 8.
Carpenter's Store precinct, Wednesday, May 9.
Pleasant Grove Precinct, Thursday, May 10.
Gore Springs precinct, Friday May 11
Graysport precinct, Monday, May 14.
Mt. Nebo precinct, Tuesday, May 15.
Spears precinct, Wednesday, May 16.
Kirkman precinct, Thursday, May 17.
Hardy precinct, Friday, May 18.
Mullin precinct, Monday, May 21.
Mims precinct, Tuesday, May 22.
Pea Ridge precinct, Wednesday, May 23.
Oxberry precinct, Thursday, May 24.
Holcomb precinct, Friday, May 25.

For the precincts of East and West Grenada, the voters will find me at my office at the court house any time except on the dates named above.

The books will be open at my office to register the voters of any precinct at any time except on the dates above named when I will be away.

The voters of the County should bear in mind that all who want to register will be required to do so on or before July 6, or four months before the November election, if they want to vote in the August primary or primaries.

THE MISSES HAYDEN IN SENIOR RECITAL

On Monday night, April 23, Grenada College, School of Music and Expression presented Misses Ruth and Edith Hayden in a Senior Recital.

For the opening number Miss Ruth Hayden played "Sonata Pathetique" by Beethoven. Her interpretation showed unquestionable skill and she played with much feeling and expression. Other numbers making up the program were "Prelude and Toccato" by Sachner and a group of Chopin "Preludes." Her rendition of these was most artistic. Her last number "Rhapsodie Hongroise XII" by Liszt was indeed a fitting close to the program. It was a very difficult number and afforded an exhibition of both her technic and her ability as a musician.

In between these numbers Miss Edith Hayden presented Andreyevs' "He who gets Slapped", a play in three acts.

Miss Edith Hayden is a very talented reader and carried the sstory of the play through in a most interesting manner. She assumed the role of the different characters very artistically. Particularly was her interpretation of "He" and "Consuelo" well done.

Her stage presence was pleasing and her gestures were most graceful. She gave a finished performance and showed clearly her skill as a reader.

ANNIVERSARY SERVICE AT BETHEL

Pea Ridge Community in Religious Celebration.

Last Sunday, April 22, Bethel, the new Presbyteerian church in the old Pea Ridge community, celebrated its anniversary. This church was organized something like two years ago under the ministry of Rev. J. R. Cunningham, pastor of the Presbyterian church in Grenada, and it has prospered wonderfully.

Sunday dinner was served on the grounds. Quite a number of the Presbyterian congregation went out from Grenada, and but for the rain, a service would also have been had in the afternoon.

COUNTY-WIDE CLUB RALLY ON MAY 5TH

County Agent E. H. White states that he is expecting every club boy and girl in Grenada County to be here for the county-wide club rally on Saturday, May 5, as this will be one of the big events for club members. All members are asked to bring a hen along with them and that morning at 11 o'clock, the hens will be auctioned to the highest bidder, the proceeds of the sales to go into a fund for county prizes, the winners of which will be announced at the close of the auction. At 1 o'clock a picture show will be presented which will be free to every club boy and girl and members of their families. The last thing on the program will be the taking of a group photograph at the court house of all club members who are here for the rally. All members are making every effort possible to be present in Grenada on that day.

The Record congratulates Editor O. F. Lawrence on the splendid forty-page Home Invitation edition of the Grenada Sentinel, issued last week. It is a decided credit to the beautiful and cultured little city of Grenada, which should be proud of the Sentinel and its able editor, who gives his people a most excellent paper all the time. Editor Lawrence is a man of force and power behind the pen and his paper stands for everything that is a decided credit to the beautiful morally, spiritually and in a civic way. He is one of the state's really worth while editors, who seeks to accomplish something for others as well as self.—Newton Record.

A full-page ad in colors on the back cover of the Ladies Home Journal costs $15,000 for just one issue.

You have often wondered what those big ads costs.

Fifty years ago there was no business man who wouldn't have fainted at the thought of $15,000 for one advertisement.

Today there are many willing to spend the $15,000 because business has learned that advertising in the long run is the most effective and least expensive way to sell goods.

The magazines of nation-wide circulation are used to establish a name for the article advertised. The man who pays $15,000 for one page does not expect direct sales to result therefrom. It is up to the community advertiser to drive the lesson home, and reap his share of the benefit from this expensive but effective publicity.—Jackson Daily News.

PHENOMENAL DISCOVERY MAY BE INTRODUCED HERE

Discoverers Said To Have Achieved Most Remarkable Medical Success In History

The greatest achievement of modern medicine will probably be introduced in Grenada within the next few days.

"It remains only for the arrangement of necessary details whether or not we can reveal this great discovery to the people here and give them the benefit of its phenomenal action," said a representative of the laboratories when seen yesterday. "For years," he continued, "people who have been suffering from stomach and intestinal disorders, nervousness, headaches, loss of strength and lack of energy, have been trying first one thing and then another, to get relief and enjoy life like the healthy, robust and rosy cheeked people they envy so much. Our laboratory research was suggested" continued the representative, "by the great discovery of Professor Metchnikoff, of the Pasteur Institute, Paris, France, who startled the medical world some years ago, when he declared that in the human colon, the large intestine into which drains the waste which the body must get rid of, lay the secret of health.

"This large intestine is a hollow tube about four feet long. Its function is to receive the dead cells, poisonous acids, and the wastes from food which the body cannot use. Unless this waste is kept moving it decays and generates deadly poisons, which soak through into the blood and flood the whole system.

"Our chemist, who is one of the greatest in America, after years of experimenting, has perfected a product known as RE-CU-MA, which keeps the colon active."

"The results are simply marvelous," said the laboratory representative. "Thousands of people who have taken our product—and they are the most intelligent, refined and cultured people in their communities, have signed testimonials of the benefits received by them. One week of treatment works marvels, and when continued for a period of thirty days the blood is enriched, the digestive organs strengthened, the liver action is stimulated, the appetite increased, vitamines are supplied to the blood and perfect health and strength result.

"All this is brought about by the active condition of the human colon about which, until Professor Metchnikoff made his wonderful discovery, very little was known.

"This RE-CU-MA is positively wonderful and when you see the phenomenal things it will do for people here, you will be just as enthusiastic about it as I am."

It was not ascertained definitely in the interview that arrangements had already been made to introduce RE-CU-MA here, but the representative of the discoverer intimated that such an announcement might be expected at any time.

saving alone amounts to around $6.40 per bale, country damage amounts to about $6.00 per bale and the saving of loose samples is a big item in a large association.

Dr. Quinn went into a discussion as to what constituted wealth production. Wealth is produced only by those whose balance sheet shows a dividend. That the development of the state must find its ultimate consummation through the efforts of the farmers. He stated that unless farming is placed on a basis where cost of production plus a reasonable profit will result, the farms will necessarily result in non wealth producing institutions. He showed that the Farm Bureau Cotton Association was a scientific sales agency and that it was not demanding a ficititious price but one based on a scale of actual values.

Mr. Guy Lee stated that he accepted the Directorship of this district at a personal sacrifice in order that he might serve his fellow man and that he was going to do all in his power to put this district over the top. Mr. Lee is a man of few words, but the entire meeting was impressed withhis earnestness in his work.

Mr. Savely explained that the reason for so many good farmers not coming in is that they do not understand the conditions, and that they are now coming in more readily than they did in the beginning of the campaign. Mr. Savely also went into detail as to how cotton has been handled in the past, that the controlling factors in the cotton maket when supplied with all the cotton needed, immediately started the price up. This caused a holding movement, and that when cotton was needed, the price was broken enough to start the market down. The raise in price automatically caused farmers to hold and the break in price caused them to want to unload for fear of further drop in price. The mills are anxious to buy from the Association because they get what they buy and hence don't mind paying a premium. He also showed how every bale put into the Association tends to stabilize the price and to merchandise the cotton in an orderly manner. He cited two counties in the state where the second campaign has been carried on and that these counties signed up more cotton than they did in the first. These campaigns will be conducted in every hill county in the state and he was very much encouraged over the fact that most of the work is being done by the farmers who are already members of the Association.

Mr. Hemphill of the Delta Association made some very interesting and instructive statements relative to the work of that organization. He did not make any apologies for their Association. He dwelt very interestingly on the proposition of having an "iron bound" contract. He said that the contract was not for the good man who wanted to abide by his promises but for the man who didn't want to "stand hitched" unless compelled. Mr. Hemphill has marketed two crops through the Delta Association and feels that he can say with at least some positiveness that it is the greatest movement the delta farmers have started.

Mr. Small, bank president of Winona and also president of the Montgomery County Farm Bureau, made an appeal to all the farmers present to get behind the cooperative marketing movement and told the farmers that he saw their prosperity meant his prosperity, hence he was going to back the movement up to the last ditch.

Mr. W. F. Martin of Grenada was called on to close the meeting. He stated that he wanted to see every farmer of the state join an association for the marketing of all his crops, that he did not produce any cotton but that he felt the interest as a citizen of the county.

OPERA HOUSE CHANGES HANDS.

I have leased the Grenada Opera House beginning May 1st, and I want to advise the public that it is my purpose and intention to maintain the high standard of moving pictures set by my predecessor, Mr. R. W. Tyson.

I believe the people of Grenada are entitled to the very best pictures produced, regardless of the expense necessary to secure the privilege of showing them here, and I shall at all times strive to show pictures that are clean, entertaining and instructive. I want you to feel assured that you can always spend a pleasant afternoon or evening at the Grenada Opera House any time you may wish to go to the show, for I shall endeavor to make every program a pleasing one,—well worth the price of admission. And in this connection, I desire to state that the price of admission in the past has been very low in comparison with the cost of the pictures and the prices prevailing at other places for the same attractions, but admission prices will remain the same. I assure you that our patrons will have the same picture service that is enjoyed by the larger cities.

I will appreciate your co-operation, patronage, and constructive criticism.

I would also like for you to bear in mind that I am still in position to suppy your life insurance needs.

With each dollar cash purchase or payment on account at any of the firms participating, you are given a ticket and this ticket may mean that you are to become the possessor, some time during the year, of one of many cash gifts to be distributed. There are still three more distributions to take place and your tickets are good until the last distribution is finished. The next distribution takes place on Saturday, July 7.
